

Highlands dairy farm wins Canadian honours

The best, most nutritious milk in all Canada comes from a herd of Jersey cows on a farm near West Guilford. That fact was confirmed recently when Bud and Paula Kirchner received several awards from the National Jersey Association.

The awards, presented annually, are based on samples taken by a government technician. The Kirchners had the highest average increase in production for the past year, setting an all-time Canadian record. They also set a record for having the highest percentage of butterfat and protein ever recorded. The awards mean that the Kirchner herd is made up of the best of the breed.

The awards were the result of 12 years of planning and hard work by the Kirchners. While conducting scientific research at the University of Toronto, the couple became interested in starting a small family-operated farm. Having seen many such farms on the rocky, hilly land of New York State and New Zealand, they were convinced that a dairy farm could be successful in Haliburton County. They were attracted to the area because there was not a heavy buildup of chemicals in the soil from previous farming operations.

The Kirchners purchased their property, began clearing the land and bought their first cow. They chose a Jersey because, of the five breeds of dairy cows, the Jersey produces the highest quality milk. At present, the family milk 20 of the 30 registered Jerseys in the herd.

Bud believes that there are two secrets to success; genetics and management. In order to improve the herd, all of the cows are bred artificially using semen that is

Visitors pause to examine an exhibit during a field day held in the Victoria County Forest on Saturday. The event was sponsored by the Ministry of Natural Resources to commemorate National Forest Week. In spite of the ideal weather, the event drew a sparse attendance.

Payment issue deferred

A decision on whether to pay members of the Planning Advisory Committee for the time they spend at meetings was delayed until the May 24 meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

The decision was delayed because of the absence of Councillor Gary Kenney. He was in Toronto where his wife had just given birth to a son.

The bylaw was introduced by Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas who noted that under the provisional Planning Act the municipality could pay the members of the committee for their

Three phase development suggested for Minden park

A proposal for the development of the park area east of the library-cultural centre and south of the arena was presented to Anson, Hindon and Minden council at the May 10 meeting. The proposal was prepared by Brian Sisson in consultation with members of the Parks Committee.

The proposal broke the development of the area into three phases. The first would see the creation of a water fowl park. This would involve the dredging of a one and a half to two acre pond which would extend into the wooded area on the north side of the park. This would provide the ducks with a nesting area and enhance the aesthetics of the display.

The report points out that the dredging would likely be the most expensive part of the initial phase.

A boardwalk would then be built to allow visitors to have a vantage point from which to observe the water fowl on and near the pond. It was suggested that different species of wild flowers and native trees could be planted throughout the park to increase the value of the area for nature study.

A parking lot to serve the water fowl park would be constructed behind the new museum site.

It was suggested that material for the boardwalk would be taken from municipal property in Ingoldsby and areas slated for industrial development.

School name honours director

The Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School will be renamed in honour of retiring Director of Education Doug Hodgson. The official announcement of the change was made Friday evening was the Haliburton County Board of Education honoured a number of employees for their many years of service.

The new name of the school will be the J. Douglas Hodgson Elementary School.

The announcement of the name change cited Mr. Hodgson's "...outstanding service to the school system and the people of Haliburton County.

Mr. Hodgson has served as Director of Education since January 1969 when area school board were amalgamated under one county-wide board. He had previously served as principal of the Haliburton Highlands District High School and the Millbrook High School.

His teaching experience began in 1946 when he taught at a one room school at Harburn. Other teaching posts included the Minden Continuation School; the Wilmot Township High School Board in Plattsville; the Haliburton Highlands District High School; Stratford Collegiate Institute.

The board also paid tribute to a number of other employees. Among those honoured were Mrs. Audrey Harris, a teacher at Cardiff School; Mrs. Betty Hicks, a teacher at Archie Stouffer Elementary School, Minden; and Mr. Randal McCrea, a bus operator in the eastern part of the county.

Park proposal reviewed

Other costs include the installation of hydro, for lighting and water pump (to keep the pond open in the winter) and the installation of fencing to deter snowmobiles and all terrain vehicles, dogs and other predators from entering the area.

Drainage from the pond would be controlled by the means of a dam near North Water Street. The dam would also help control back flooding from the river at times of high water.

The proposal also suggests the possible creation of an island in the centre of the pond with a spray fountain and decorative lighting. The possibility of using the area as a fish hatchery to supply rainbow trout for the river was also to be explored.

Second phase

Under the proposal presented to the council it was suggested in the second phase of development a silo to hold feed for the water fowl should be constructed. As well landscaping could be completed around the pond where required.

Phase two would also see the construction of a spray pool for youngsters. The spray pool would be located behind the arena. It would provide a large dish shaped platform with a pump to circulate water through a number of spray nozzles. Since the water would not collect at the bottom of the pool, there would be no need to employ the services of a life guard.

The second phase would also see the start of construction for a children's creative playground.

Initial work on the children's petting zoo would also begin with the construction of the necessary buildings and fencing in preparation for the introduction of livestock the following spring.

In phase three of the proposal, the necessary landscaping would be completed and a so-called "cooling-off" period would follow at which time the committee, council and community could assess the effect of the changes and whether there is interest in developing the area further.

The report by Mr. Sisson notes that many problems have to be overcome before the plan becomes a reality. Among those is the preparation of a detailed plan of action and costing analysis. He noted in his report that the program could be derailed by a lack of public support and monies, the time involved if a new plan must be approved for the Minden park, and the silting of the pond. Sisson stressed that the development should not hinder the ongoing parks program in the municipality.

"To complete this plan, a joint effort will be required from all levels of government, Natural Resources, wildlife and biological divisions, the local BIA, service clubs and citizen groups," the report concludes.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, who is a member of the Parks Committee noted that since the proposal did not identify the costs involved, the council cannot endorse its implementation. "All this is contingent on the availability of funding," he said, "We're just considering this matter in principle."

The council agreed to forego any further discussion of the proposal until Councillor Kenney was available to participate in the debate.

Committee payment debate

services. The by-law called for the payment of all members of the committee excluding municipal staff. The payment would be $25 per monthly day meeting and would be retroactive to the first of the year.

Each member of council then presented their position on the issue.

Councillor Pat Burk said she favoured the bylaw. She noted that the three citizen members of the committee were employed and attending the day meetings would be extremely inconvenient for them. She also noted that changing the meetings to the evening would result in overtime payments to the municipal staff members. (This point was clarified later when it was pointed out that bylaw enforcement officer Dick Schell and municipal clerk Elinor Burke would not receive compensation for attending the meetings if they were held in the evenings.)

Burk noted that members of the Committee of Adjustment and the Land Division Committee, (a county body with representatives from each municipality), received payment for their efforts. She said the work done by the Planning Advisory Committee resulted in a great deal of time saving for the councillors. "The final decisions on the matters before them may be left to us, but they do a lot of the necessary groundwork," she commented. Burk said the members of the advisory committee were there because they were concerned with the future of the community.

Councillor Dave Stevens noted that the members of the Planning Advisory Committee accepted the position knowing that it was a voluntary one and that no payment was being offered.

Burk suggested that the committee members felt they were going to hold the meetings at night.

Reeve Lyle McKnight said as an ex-officio member of the committee he had been unable to attend many of the meetings because they were held during the day. He said it was his understanding that the committee was to have met at night.

McKnight expressed concern about the precedent that might be set by paying members of one committee and not others. "I agree that they make a valuable contribution to the efforts of the municipality," the reeve commented, "but so do the members of other committees."

The reeve suggested that compensation should be considered for the members because they use their own cars to drive to sites for on-location inspections of particular questions at hand. However, he suggested if they could not afford to meet during the day, they should change their schedule to night meetings.

The reeve also noted that when the committee was formed, the municipality advertised for volunteers to serve. He said some volunteers, "individuals who were willing to serve on the committee without financial compensation" had to be turned down. He questioned whether it was fair to these people to offer payment to the people now on the committee.

McKnight pointed out that the terms of the committee should have been set prior to the final selection taking place.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas told the meeting that when the committee was first established, it was assumed that the group would be handled in the same way as the Committee of Adjustment with regard to remuneration. He said it was difficult to differentiate between the duties and responsibilities of the Committee of Adjustment and the Planning Advisory Committee.

He noted as well that committee members are using their own cars and gasoline for on-site inspections.

The Deputy Reeve suggested that all committees should be examined to see what duties are involved with each group.

He also proposed that the council consider the amalgamation of the Committee of Adjustment with the Planning Advisory Committee since their responsibilities are in the same area.

It is expected the matter will be resolved at the next meeting of the council.

imported from all over the world.

Bud spends an hour each day examining charts and reports from other breeders, paying particular attention to the lineage of the bulls. Bud points out that "the skill as a herdsman is to get a daughter that is superior to the mother," adding, "it is a great challenge to synthesize all the information and come up with a prize winning cow."

That mental challenge is more than matched by the physical challenge. The Jerseys are milked twice a day at 4 a.m. and 9 p.m. mainly by milking machines but when the power fails, as it did recently, the cows are milked by hand.

The daily cleaning of the stalls, equipment repairs, feeding and grooming, all add up to a heavy workload. Everyone in the family is committed to the herd including five year old Jody who is already able to feed and groom the cows.

Bud emphasises that "Tender Loving Care" is important, noting "it has been proven in laboratory tests in England that contented cows produce better."

In commenting on the awards they have received, Bud notes "what really pleases us is that all these awards are a recognition of the nutritional quality of the milk." He points out also "In terms of transporting milk, it is better to ship milk that has a high protein and butterfat content."

The Kirchners are optimistic about the future of agriculture in the Highlands pointing out that "Localized food production is going to become more and more important" adding "there is absolutely no reason why this cannot become an agricultural area."

Work on Minden's downtown sidewalk reconstruction project recommenced two weeks ago. Workmen have installed the new interlocking block sidewalk on Peck Street and South Water Street. The work is part of the downtown redevelopment program which will see new sidewalks installed throughout the core area.

$25 donation splits council

The Minden Scouting group will receive a donation of $25 from the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council after the group planted 2000 trees on municipal property.

The motion to make the donation came at the May 10 meeting after Councillor Dave Stevens proposed that the organization be given $150 for their efforts on behalf of the community.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, noting that the township had an "unwritten agreement" that all requests for donations would be limited to $25, suggested that the motion be amended to that amount. It was also suggested in the amendment that the Scouts approach the local service clubs for financial support if it was required.

If the Scouts are unable to obtain financial support from these sources, the motion passed by the council said special consideration would be given to this request.

The suggestion that the council donate to the local Scouts split the council. Councillor Dave Stevens voted against both the amendment and the motion with regard to the $25 donation. Councillor Pat Burke said she felt the $150 figure was too high while $25 was too little. However, with the proviso that the

Scouts would approach area service clubs for support, she endorsed the resolution. Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas was adamant in his stand on the $25 donation.

"Either we give a set amount each time or we should not give at all," he said. He asked his fellow members of council how they could cut the budget of municipal committees while at the same time suggest a donation of $100 to $150 be given to the Scouts.

The matter was decided on a split vote with Stevens opposed. (Councillor Gary Kenney was absent.)

Well done

It is always intriguing to see myths shattered.

Haliburton County may not have the richest, deepest soil in Ontario, but that does not mean its farmers are any less dedicated, hard working or successful.

The success we refer to occurred on the Irish Line, off Highway 118. At the end of the roller coaster of a road, Bud and Paula Kirchner and family have established a reputation as one of the best Jersey operations in the county.

The success of their efforts is due in no small part to the determination they brought to their task. They had to be determined to even think about making a living as full-time farmers in Haliburton County. Not only did they choose one of the apparently least promising careers to follow, they chose to farm organically, foregoing many of the modern chemicals which so-called modern farmers have come to rely on.

Their success is recorded in the front page story of today's newspaper. The national recognition which they have received is well deserved. They have worked hard for the accolades. And in doing so, they have demonstrated that, yes, agriculture can be successfully pursued in Haliburton County. We salute Bud and Paula Kirchner and family.

Editor:

Your readers would want to know that the Ingoldsby Dump has developed "leachate springs" and "leachate seeps" of contaminated water which is flowing into Canning Lake.

It seems appropriate to bring this up at this time when Anson, Hindon and Minden Township Council is considering waste disposal matters relative to the Scotch Line site and are in the process of considering an Official Plan. Both of these projects might well wish to examine the condition of the Ingoldsby Dump and its alternatives.

"Leachate springs" are formed when there is so much water in a dump it dissolves the solids buried there into a contaminated liquid called "leachate" which then runs out through the ground covering the dump, flows into and pollutes surface waters and nearby streams and bodies of water.

The effect on the ground water is equally destructive. "Leachate" according to a book titled Ground Water (Prentice Hall, 1979) contains large numbers of inorganic contaminants. Total dissolved solids and organic contaminants can be very high. At one dump site more than forty organic contaminants were found in the leachate. Many leachates contain toxic constituents. The current cancer plague in Stouffville, Ontario, is being attributed to leachate from a dump.

In a dump such as the one in Ingoldsby "suspended and dissolved solids in the migrating water transform it from a harmless fluid to a leachate which has all of the characteristics of a strong industrial waste water." This is a quote from an Environment Canada book titled Stress on Land published in Ottawa in 1983 (page 47).

Leachate, this powerful and potentially poisonous contaminant and threat to good ground and surface waters, should have no place in our clean Highland lakes. The Ministry of the Environment of Ontario has found that leachate is flowing out of the Ingoldsby Dump and polluting a stream which flows directly into the north-east corner of Canning Lake, a heavily cottaged tourist and recreational lake where boating, swimming and fishing are major activities. I, personally, believe leachate is also entering lake waters closer to Ingoldsby.

A report based on tests conducted at the Ingoldsby Dump in May of 1983 by the Ontario Ministry of the Environment which you might wish to consult says among other things:

1. "Leachate springs are discharging to the small aforementioned tributary passing along the west side of this disposal area. The mound of refuse at this location is about three metres high."

2. Government samples, "indicate a significant impact" on the small tributary from the original fill area.

3. One hundred metres downstream from the leachate seeps water indicates only a slight improvement in the quality due to dilution.

4. The Ministry's Test Pit No. 1 showed "an obvious impact" from the refuse.

5. There is not enough material at the site to cover the garbage. A new pit has to be opened in the area to service this site.

6. "The sharp drop in surface to the North appears to have a strong influence on the direction of the migration of the contaminants." It is to the North, Mr. Editor, that the lake waters of the Kashagawigamog - Canning chain are closest to the dump. I reckon this to be about 200 metres. The government calls it 300., One leachate flow, or "plume", travelled through sandy soil 3,000 metres according to the Ground Water text book.

7. The Ministry report found that if it were not for 125 metres of narrow wetland which filters the contaminated leachate spring discharges these contaminants would reach Canning Lake unchanged. As it is they emerge on the lake side of the swamp in what is called "minor impairment".

The experts tell us garbage does not disappear, except to the view, when it is

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

The annual rite of spring - that is, mating - involves some very exotic traditions around the world. And Canada's own "gathering of the garter" rivals the best. With each passing year, the quiet rural area of Narcisse, Manitoba hits more and more headlines for the pageant of nature it hosts between late April and early May.

I'll grant you the name I've given it is a little misleading. It's not, as you might have expected, an ancient Elizabethan custom, or a variant of that strange wedding tradition of stealing an item of bridal attire.

No, I'm talking about snakes. Thousands upon thousands of snakes. Garter snakes. For probably as many years, they've gathered to hibernate in the limestone pits and underground caverns that riddle Manitoba's Interlake district, 50 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

As the spring sun begins to warm the pits, the snakes emerge in unbelievable numbers to mate and then 'slither' away into marshy areas and fields nearby. Scientists from far and wide come to study the phenomenon claiming the area may have the highest density of snakes in the northern hemisphere.

No one knows the whole story. But once the females start emerging, they are individually pursued and literally wrapped up by a dozen or so males, forming a "mating ball". Somehow in all this mayhem, the female manages to mate with one of the males, then roams afield for the summer, giving birth to as many as 60 baby snakes in mid August. In late September, the return migration takes place.

To naturalists, the annual garter snake gathering is a natural wonder. Tourists also arrive in increasing numbers both spring and fall. A few local families have also earned part of their livelihood for many years by capturing and selling Thamnophis sirtalis parietalis (the snakes) to dealers who distribute them south of the border.

Fortunately this growing interest and pressure is it seems in no immediate danger of threatening the resource. The Narcisse wildlife management area includes a goodly number of the snake pits and prohibits any removal of the reptiles. So nearby Inwood should be able to keep billing itself as "The Garter Snake Capital of the World" for many years to come.

buried in the ground. I continue as a collection of buried and polluting substances which continue to poison both ground water and surface water and the immediate air with methane gas. This can go on for many years. A refuse dump from Roman times is still producing leachate.

Further use of this site will mean an ever larger buried mountain of refuse. The Ministry reports it is now producing leachate that is contaminating surface waters entering our lakes. No control is present or contemplated to preserve the "narrow wetland" of 125 metres length which is now the sole barrier to undiluted leachate entering Canning Lake. This tiny wetland itself is likely to fall victim to garbage infill over the course of time.

Based on this evidence by incompetent hydrogeologists I personally disagree with the Ministry of the Environment finding that there exists "an adequate buffer zone to protect any recreational waters". I disagree especially when the Ministry's own report says that "as a precaution it would still be advisable to extend the buffer zone as far as the Ingoldsby Road". This is the area from the sharp county road curve up to and including the Ingoldsby Park and ball diamond. In spite of this caution the county is already extracting gravel in this "buffer zone" from a wayside pit east of the dump road. This will fly in the face of the government caution by depleting the buffer zone.

The Ministry also concurs that the Ingoldsby Dump "is not an absolutely ideal location for a disposal site."

In fact the Ingoldsby Dump is a potentially dangerous, badly located garbage disposal site in a highly vulnerable area.

My suggestion is that it be relocated outside the direct watershed area and vicinity of Canning Lake's watershed before the dump enlarges itself further and its leachate discharges increase. There is no shortage of sites which would be far superior to the present one and on whose location all the new, technical know-how could be applied to ensure its safety. The move can be made easily. Unfortunately the thirty years of garbage now in the ground nine feet deep cannot be removed. It is a permanent heritage. Its leachate will stay with us and be will willed to our grandchildren.

Jos. A. Curtin, Ingoldsby.

Editor:

I would be grateful if you would publish the copy of our latest letter from the Gull Lake Cottagers Association, so that the 300 or so cottagers who do not belong can see the valuable service being done for them by the 100 plus who do.

We have worked a long time to get government support to clean up the Gull River of its hazards. We have a letter on file from MNR commending our actions and offering technical help.

Sometimes one tends to wonder about the motives of our little pressure groups.

Bill Valentine,
Councillor,
Lutterworth Township.

Dear Sirs: (The council of the Township of Lutterworth.)

The Association has noted the Township's plan to carry out certain improvements to the Gull River north of Gull Lake. We understand that these improvements include removing fallen trees and logs which are a hazard to boating and removing overhanging trees and brush on the river.

At our Association's annual meeting held April 12, a concern was expressed that extensive improvements of the type referred to could have at least two adverse effects. Firstly, by removing brush and trees from the river banks, run-off would be increased. As you are aware, many of the cottagers on Gull Lake suffered property damage last spring as a result of above normal water levels.

Secondly, the effect of removing all logs, stumps, etc., will presumably be that boat traffic will increase on the river. Furthermore, the speed of boats on the river will be increased. The Association has received complaints from cottagers on the river concerning boats travelling at excessive speeds. These boats are a hazard to swimmers and to boats and docks located in the river.

Accordingly, we would urge you to reconsider your decision to carry out improvements to the Gull River.

We would be pleased to discuss our concerns further with the council at their convenience.

John Warren,
President.

CHIP grants available

- by Bill Scott, MP -

With the summer months fast approaching, my offices have received several requests lately for information on the Canadian Home Insulation Program (CHIP). This program is designed to encourage Canadians to insulate their homes, save money, and at the same time reduce Canadian energy demand. It has proven to be very helpful to many of my constituents.

After some pressure from my Party and homeowners in general, the Minister changed the CHIP Program, in March of this year, to allow homes across Canada built before September 1, 1977 to qualify for the Program grants. In Ontario to be eligible, a structure now must:

- a) be a principle residence
- b) be no more than three stories high
- c) have been built before September 1, 1977.

The basic taxable grants will pay up to $500 for 60 per cent of the material costs for householders who complete the insulation and draft-proofing themselves, or 60 per cent of the combined material and labour costs for improvements completed by a contractor listed with the Canadian General

Standards Board (CGSB). CGSB listed contractors will certify to their clients that their work complies with national standards.

Improvements eligible for CHIP assistance include the insulation of attics, exterior walls, basement walls and floors over unheated spaces as well as draftproofing of the home by the installation of weatherstripping and caulking material.

To receive a free CHIP Applicant's Guide, you should call their Ontario Regional Office at 1-800-268-1818. I urge you to take advantage of this assistance, as it is one of the few programs of real help offered by this government.

Not much happening

Ever since the Prime Minister resigned earlier this year, very little has been accomplished by the House of Commons.

Rather than attack the problems of the country, the members of the government benches have chosen to take sides and attack each other. In this time, interest rates have slowly began

The Times wins provincial advertising competition

The Times has won a province-wide advertising competition sponsored by the Ontario Community Newspapers Association and the provincial government.

Community newspapers from across the province were asked to design an advertisement to promote this year's Junior Citizens of the Year award. One of the entries submitted by The Times staff was selected as the winner. It will be used in community newspapers across Ontario to promote this worthwhile program.

Each year, the OCNA, in co-operation with CP Air presents awards to deserving Ontario young people between the ages of 6 and 18. These individuals are nominated by members of their community for acts of bravery, perseverance in the face of great difficulties, such as overcoming a handicap, or for just being "good citizens". Those who are selected as the recipients of the award are treated to a visit to Toronto where the presentations are made by the Lieutenant Governor of the province.

The Times' winning entry, which appears below, was a combined effort of the newspaper's staff. Sharon Barclay was responsible for the artwork and layout, Bess Cox was responsible for typesetting, with copy being prepared by Jack Brezina. Other Times staffers, Susan Beers and Michael Shirley, provided critical support and assistance.

The staff of The Times is pleased to have its entry chosen for the province-wide campaign and proud to have contributed to the promotion of the Ontario Junior Citizen of the Year program.

SOMEONE BELOW IS A KID YOU KNOW

That's why, during the province's Bicentennial, a special effort is being made to honour the young people of Ontario through the Junior Citizen of the Year award program. Jointly sponsored by the Ontario Community Newspapers Association and CP Air, this award honours young people between the ages of 6 and 18 who have made an outstanding contribution to their community.

Ontario Junior Citizens of the Year receive a lapel pin, plaque, $200 and a family picture with the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario.

The Spring deadline for nominations is June 20, 1984 but why not submit one today? For more information, contact:

from the chamber

"You Can't Take It With You" was an appropriate title for the Highlands Little Theatre's latest production, (all profits from the three performances will go to The Toronto Hospital For Sick Children). The theatre group hopes to be able to donate a healthy cheque to the Sick Kids as many people volunteered time, materials, help or money. The cast of 18 was the largest yet and of course many more worked behind the scenes to produce the well attended and appreciated play. Small children in the audience were very attentive on large foam mattresses set up especially for them front row and centre.

New comers to Haliburton might be interested to know that the Highlands Little Theatre consists of a wide variety of occupations and professions, for example, school teachers, carpenters, policemen, housewives, dentist, psychologist, resort and restaurant owners, etc., and are always looking for more members to join the group. For information, please call President Caryl Douglas at 286-3115.

The next production in the fall promises more surprises.

The actual proceeds being forwarded to the Hospital For Sick Children will be announced as soon as the figure is available.

The park

In the Ministry of Natural Resources latest publication of "The Raven" from Algonquin Park there is an article on the charitable organization formed in June, 1983, "The Friends of Algonquin Park" which is dedicated to furthering the educational and interpretive programs of Algonquin. The idea has been successful for over 60 years in the U.S. and for 10 years elsewhere in Canada but is a first for an Ontario provincial park. The basic principle is that a group of private citizens form an incorporated association which undertakes to raise money for a park through the sale of park-related publications and other items.

Annual budget cuts were making it difficult to maintain the Park's award winning publications, but "The Friends" took over the financial responsibility for reprinting.

Because the Park did not have to spend $20,000 on printing, it was able to replace entrance signs, boardwalks and upgrade their audio-visual show at the Park Museum.

The Friends have generated enough profit already (in less than a year) to construct a book store in the lobby of the Park Museum with a line of natural and local human history titles. The profits will enable The Friends to do more improvements in the future.

The 12 member, volunteer Board of Directors will keep you informed of their activities and give you a 15% discount in the new bookshop for a small membership fee which is a contribution to the Park as well - "They need a lot of help from their friends". Drop in at the Park Museum or write "The Friends", Box 248, Whitney, Ontario, K0J 2M0.

There are many visitors to the Highlands and some residents as well who do not realize the distance to which the Park extends into Haliburton and what a natural attraction it is to our area.

Crying

From the Bicentennial Office in Peterborough comes the announcement that Nordair is sponsoring the "Ontario Bicentennial Town Crier Festival and Cry-off".

Communities across the province are being encouraged to have a local crier who would represent them in the festival and also assist with events at the local level. The festival for the Central Area will be held in Peterborough near the end of June. The winners will go on to compete in the provincial Cry-off in Ottawa at the end of August.

Medals

This year, 1,984 medals will be awarded to volunteers who have made a valuable contribution to their communities.

Individuals and voluntary organizations who wish to make a nomination may do so on a special nomination form, available by writing to Executive Secretary, Bicentennial Awards Committee, Box 1984, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario M7A 1N3.

Submissions close June 30, 1984.

Coins

Peterborough has produced a Bicentennial commemorative coin this year featuring a profile of Sir Sandford Fleming which looks very similar to our own coin featuring Chief Justice Thomas Chandler Haliburton. Incidentally we still have some of our coins left and we find visitors to the County appreciative of being able to get them at the original sale price of $1.00.

Elephant

Still on the Bicentennial Bits update, we were lucky here at the Haliburton Chamber not to have had the job that the Campbellford - Seymour Chamber had. They were confronted with finding an elephant to lead their Bicentennial Parade. The costs were offset by holding a 50-50 draw to guess "Buki's" weight.

Printing

Since we discontinued our printing service a few weeks ago, there appears to be some confusion as to what we do in the printing area.

We will still do your photo copying at .25 for members and .30 for non members.

We will still cut stencils from Monday to Friday at a cost of $3.50 each (a clean copy must be provided by you.)

We regret that we are unable to provide a typing service for our members, time simply does not permit.

Fight the boundaries

-by John Eakins, MPP -

On May 3 I appeared before the Electoral Boundaries Commission to oppose a preliminary proposal to remove three townships from our provincial riding of Victoria - Haliburton, Dalton and Carden Townships especially have historic roots, having been a part of the first riding of Victoria North in 1867. Manvers Township has been proposed to be included with Durham East. This area has been a part of our riding since 1974 when they were excluded from the Regional Government of Durham.

The fact that they were included with Victoria shows they have more in common with us than a larger urban area. I was pleased to hear the Chairman, Mr. Justice S. H. S. Hughes, indicate he will take a new look at putting Dalton and Carden back with Victoria - Haliburton. Although no indication was forthcoming with regard to Manvers, I will continue to fight to have Manvers remain with us provincially.

I am appreciative of those who attended personally and supported my presentation. I mention especially Reeve Harold Bruce, Trustee Margaret Stewart, Harvey Malcolm and Arthur Rowan, and Ivan Reynolds. I have also been notified of letters of support from Victoria County, Carden Township, Manvers Township, Dalton Township and Victoria County School Board.

I will keep you informed of the Commission's final report.

Quebec Assembly shooting

I, like everyone else, was shocked and saddened by events in the Quebec National Assembly. As a result of the shooting, security has been tightened and there is a possibility that metal detectors may be installed at the Ontario Legislature.

The Premier described the shooting as "almost beyond comprehension" and said he would not stand in the way of a recommendation to install metal detectors, although he would personally regret their introduction. Liberal Leader David Peterson expressed concern that members of the Legislature might over-react and go too far in implementing new security precautions. He does not want to turn the Legislature "into an armed fortress", and expressed his confidence that the Board of Internal Economy would review security arrangements "in a balanced and thoughtful way".

The Premier and both Opposition Leaders sponsored a resolution conveying to the President of the National Assembly "heartfelt concern and sympathy ... over the loss of life and injuries sustained by those dedicated men and women who have been servants of that House" and recognizing and saluting "the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Quebec National Assembly for his selfless and courageous action to prevent further loss in the face of grave danger".

While a security review is in order, I personally hope we do not over-react and make our institutions a visible armed camp. I hope we can keep them as open and accessible as possible.

Ladies league opens Monday

The Haliburton County Ladies Softball League begins play this coming Monday for another season.

The league this year consists of six teams with Minden and Haliburton each represented by two entries and other teams from West Guilford and Wilberforce.

Kickers lose first game

The Dixie Lee soccer team lost a hard fought match with Gravenhurst last Sunday in Gravenhurst. The first half was scoreless because Haliburton sent only 3 men forward and plugged up their end of the small Gravenhurst field with four halfbacks and three fullbacks.

Gravenhurst broke through early in the second half and scored three times before Falk Flujel scored for Haliburton. The game ended with Haliburton down 3 - 1.

Dixie Lee will practise Thursday evening in Haliburton and play their first home game next Sunday. We won't know our opponent until later this week.

Council briefs

Items from the May 10 meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

Paving

A contract for the paving of streets in the village was accepted by council. The bid submitted by Fowler Paving of Bracebridge was accepted by the township. The company bid $32,473 to complete the work.

A second bid of $36,977 was received from Royel Paving of Lindsay.

The paving work is to be carried out on Newcastle Street, between St. Germaine and Main Street; Main Street from Peck Street to the bridge; Peck Street at the hill to Main Street; and South Water Street at the approach to the bridge. The grade of the approach will also be changed.

Street light

A high pressure sodium street light will be installed at the intersection of Prince Street and Highway 35. The installation of the light has been under consideration for a number of months. Members of council ordered the new light to increase the safety at the intersection. The cost of purchasing and installing the light is estimated at $850.

Country market

A proposal to operate a flea market on the property adjacent to the Minden Auction Centre was considered by the council. Owner of the property, Norm Mills, brought the suggestion to the meeting.

He told the councillors he had carried out extensive research into the idea and felt it would be a popular drawing card. He noted it would provide an outlet for locally produced arts and crafts, organized garage sales and other merchandise.

He suggested to the council that potential problems regarding licensing of vendors, days of operation and the goods being offered for sale, must be worked out. The local auctioneer agreed that all vendors should have an Ontario government permit, which would mean that sales tax would have to be collected.

The council appeared to view the idea with favour, although some concerns were expressed about the same concerns voiced by Mills. It was agreed that the businessman would meet with the municipal bylaw enforcement officer Dick Schell, to determine if any acceptable policy could be established to cover these areas.

Baseball tournament

The owner of the Rockcliffe Tavern, Dave Willis, appeared before council on a number of matters. He requested their endorsement of the annual baseball tournament sponsored by the tavern. The council's endorsement is required before a licenced Bavarian garden can be included at the site. The council gave its endorsement. The tournament will be held in August.

Willis also requested the council's co-operation for the annual Heineken Yard foot race which will be held on July 27. The council agreed to close half of Main Street to accommodate the runners during the final portion of the run.

The tavern owner told the council that he had recently returned from a visit to the far east. He said the city of Singapore, which has a population of several million, was one of the cleanest cities he had ever visited.

Noting that they have a $500 fine for littering which is strictly enforced, he suggested that the municipality should ensure that its own bylaw is being adhered to. He also noted that the trash containers are often filled to overflowing and should be emptied on a regular basis.

Reeve Lyle McKnight told the meeting that a contract for the regular emptying of the receptacles will begin this week and continue until Thanksgiving.

creeping up again and nothing is being accomplished in the direction of reducing unemployment, a still dominant problem affecting Canadians.

After passing the Canada Health Act, Amendments to the Income Tax Act and some unnecessary Supply Bills, the government slowed down the debates on other legislation. There is even talk that the government will recess early in June so that they won't be tied up during the Liberal leadership convention.

On May 2, I participated in the debate on Bill C-7, An Act to Amend the Customs Tariff Act. This bill's purposes are: to provide for tariff reductions for goods from developing countries; to give authority to double the limit on goods that may be brought back into the country by Canadians travelling abroad; to extend the expiry date for the General Preferential Tariff to June 30, 1994 from June 30, 1984 and; to make administrative changes to the Act. The government had asked our party to pass this and a group of five other bills on that day at second reading without debate. On looking at Bill C-7, our party felt that these bills should at least be discussed before giving a blanket approval.

I have had several firms in the constituency which have been adversely affected by Anti-Dumping Tribunal decisions in the past couple of years. I, therefore, suggested during the debate that, in further consideration of duties and tariffs, the government should review the operation of the Tribunal to insure that it is acting in the best interest of local Canadian firms.

Did you know?

by Bambi Gilder

Did you know ... that for several years the Canadian Foundation for World Development has been helping some of the poorest people in the world?

However, in order to do this, they urgently need your help in the collection of eyeglasses and hearing aids. These items are distributed to the Third World countries for the needy where they are supplied with the closest to fit their need and prescription.

Thousands of hours go into determining the prescription of the glasses and hearing aids donated, numbering each one and storing them for quick selection once their voluntary optometrists, opticians and ear specialists are in the field.

So if you have any old eyeglasses, frames, lenses or hearing aids tucked away somewhere in your home, why not drop them into our office.

Words can't describe the joy and elation as each recipient has the privilege of discovering that he or she can now see clearly and hear properly. All this can be done with your help!

Black Bear rally date set by club

The date for the 1984 edition of the Black Bear Car Rally has been announced by the organizers, the Maple Leaf Rally Club of Toronto. The event will be held June 2 with the Minden Arena serving as the start and finish point.

This is the third year the club has used Minden as the co-ordinating point.

High performance vehicles from various communities in Ontario as well as Quebec and the United States will be taking part in the event. The competitors will be earning points toward the Ontario and Eastern Canadian Performance Rally Championships.

The rally is a timed event in which drivers must follow pre-arranged and coded instructions, as interpreted by their navigator. The organizers have laid out the course over public roads and forest access routes. The public road sections are timed on the basis of an average speed within the legal limits. The forest access road portions of the rally are rated on speed alone with comprehensive precautions taken to ensure the route is closed to the public during the run.

The rally will use forest access roads in Anson, Hindon and Minden, Muskoka and Frost Centre areas.

Spectators are invited to the Minden arena prior to the 2 p.m. starting time, June 2, to see the participating cars as they are prepared for the rally. A spectator kit, which includes a map of the route will be available at that time. Those wishing to observe the cars on the forest access roads are advised to arrive early at the arena to obtain instructions on where the special spectator area has been established. The spectators will have to be on location prior to the arrival of the first car on the route.

Old name lives on

Memories of the early dance hall days in the Haliburton Highlands have been revived at the PineStone Inn. The resort hotel on Highway 121 between Minden and Haliburton has renamed its main lounge, The Golden Slipper.

According to the president and general manager of the PineStone Inn, Wren Blair, the name can be traced back to the early days of tourism in the area.

Blair, who officiated at the unveiling of the new name at a press conference Tuesday, related how the name was chosen for the lounge.

He noted that a large dance hall, located on the shores of Lake Kashagawigamog, was called the Golden Slipper Dance Hall. The facility attracted name bands and was a popular spot for visitors and locals alike. However, with the passing of the big band era and the introduction of other forms of amusement, the dance hall was eventually closed and fell into ruin.

"The place had a lot of memories for those who were raised in the area," Wren recalls. "It was a special place where young people would go for a night out."

A new look for an old name.

When Mr. Blair and a number of other partners purchased a farm for the initial phase of the PineStone development, the former dancehall was on the property. Unfortunately the building had fallen into disrepair and was subsequently torn down.

While the building may be long gone, for many the memories of the good times it provided are still alive and the name has now found a new home at the resort's main lounge.

New developments

The press conference Tuesday also revealed plans for a $650,000 expansion at the hotel. The latest in a series of additions will involve a 50 by 60 foot conference room. According to Blair, the new room will mean the resort will be able to host larger conventions and meetings, a portion of the tourism trade which has been increasingly attracted to facilities like PineStone.

The conference room will have all the latest equipment required for business meetings. The room will also be available for special occasions.

The kitchen area at the resort will be expanded to meet the needs of the new conference area.

Construction of the new room will start this week with completion slated for September.

The golf course at the resort will also be expanded to a full 18 holes later this year.

Vehicle destroyed in mishap

A 1984 Ford Bronco was destroyed in a single car accident May 12. This mishap occurred at 4 a.m. on Highway 121 in Dysart Township.

According to the police, Diane Barry, 24, of Stanhope Township was the driver of the vehicle when she lost control, it entered a ditch and flipped over. The damage was estimated at $13,000.

The driver has been charged with careless driving. Constable Brian Dunham was the investigating officer.

Treatment

The drivers of two vehicles involved in an accident May 8 required hospital treatment following the incident. The mishap occurred on Scotch Line Road east.

According to police, Edith McArthur, 68, of Minden was driving a 1980 Chevrolet which was in collision with a 1976 Ford van driven by Scott Young, 19, of Minden. The McArthur vehicle sustained $5,000 damage while the Young car was estimated to have received $4,000 damage.

McArthur was admitted to hospital for treatment while Young was treated and released.

McArthur has been charged with making a left turn when it was unsafe to do so.

The investigating officer was Constable Brad Burkholder.

Charged

A charge of impaired has been laid against a Port Hope woman following a single car accident May 12.

A vehicle, driven by Janet McIntosh, 30, went out of control on Highway 121 just east of Highway 35. The vehicle crossed the roadway, entered the ditch and rolled over. The vehicle was destroyed in the accident.

The driver sustained minor injuries.

Constable Boyd Jarvis was the investigating officer.

Stolen vehicle

A stolen truck from the town of Bracebridge was involved in an accident after the vehicle was abandoned on Highway 121 near the Dover Spring Road.

The mishap occurred May 13 when 17 year old Jeffrey Howe of R.R. 2 Minden was driving a 1977 model Chevrolet on the Highway. The stolen truck had apparently run out of fuel and was left in a jack-knifed position on the highway. Howe failed to see the unlit vehicle and struck the rear corner of the truck. Damage to his vehicle was estimated at $3,000, with minimal damage to the Bracebridge truck.

Police are continuing their investigation into the incident. Constable Paul Shaughnessy was the investigating officer.

Work begins on seniors apartments

Construction has started at Staunworth Court, a $895,000, 22 unit senior citizen project in Minden.

The project, being developed by the Staunworth Non-Profit Housing Corporation is located on Prentice Street, in Minden. It will contain 17 one-bedroom, and 5 two-bedroom apartments in a one-storey building. One of the two-bedroom apartments is designed for use by a handicapped person.

Under the municipal non-profit housing program administered by the province, mortgage loans from private financial institutions are guaranteed by CMHC, the federal housing agency. In addition, the federal government provides rent reduction grants that will reduce the effective interest rate on these loans to two per cent. The province offers an additional rent reduction grant, of up to 100 per cent of the federal assistance, if necessary.

The federal grant for this project will amount to an estimated $83,268 during the first year of operation.

This grant is used to maintain over-all rents at market levels and to subsidize those units in which the rent is geared to the income of the tenant.

In the development, 11 of the 22 apartments will have rent geared-to-income tenants who will pay about 25 per cent of household income on rent.

With the footings in place, workmen began laying the blocks earlier this week on the site of the new senior citizen's apartment complex on Prentice Street. The $895,000 project will provide twenty-two housing units.

Minden walkers wanted

An organizer of the Haliburton County Walk for Wells has issued a special appeal for participants from the Minden area.

Gerry Feltham, who, with a group of other interested citizens, has spearheaded the organization of the walk, noted earlier this week that the number of walkers registered from Minden is considerably less than the number from other parts of the county.

"We want to involve all communities in the county," the spokesman commented.

"We don't want people to feel that just because the walk starts and ends in Haliburton Village that it is only for people from that community." Originally the group had planned to have two walks, originating in Haliburton and Minden and meeting in Ingoldsby, but decided that having two routes doubled the organizational problems. "We had to start and end somewhere," Feltham commented, "and Haliburton was the choice this year."

The organizer suggested that students from the Minden elementary school might be interested in becoming involved, since one of the wells to be drilled with the money raised, is at a school where 1200 girls attend. "All the students arrive at the school with a small bottle of water to meet their daily needs," he commented. "The only other source of water for the large number of students is a half inch pipe which is operational for one hour each day."

Feltham noted that he would be visiting the school later this year and would be willing to present the school in India with a token from the local schools.

Walkers are being asked to gather pledges based on the number of kilometres they cover in the 20 kilometre course. The walk is scheduled for June 2.

Senior games

Final plans for the Ontario Senior Games are being made by devoted volunteers under the direction of Bruce Henry. The dates for the games are June 6, 7 and 8. The opening ceremonies will commence Wednesday, June 6 at 8:30 a.m. with a ceremonial walk from the Municipal Building to Head Lake Park Band Shell and continue with a welcome greeting and a speech from a guest speaker.

Over the three days, participants 55 and over will participate in the following games: golf, carpet bowling, dance (old-time), bowling (5-pin), checkers, cribbage, horseshoes, lawn bowling, shuffleboard, bridge, scrabble, euchre, and crokinole.

The closing ceremonies will commence on Friday, June 8 at 12:00 with a pot-luck luncheon for all organizers and participants at the Dysart et al Community Centre. After the luncheon, entertainment will follow at the Head Lake Park Band Shell. It is still not too late to be involved in the Ontario Senior Games. Please call Bruce Henry at 457-1313 or Anna Nichol, 457-2171, at the Drop-In Centre.

Just a reminder ... of the happenings at the Drop-In for the month of May: Bridge is played on Monday at 2:00 p.m., euchre is played on Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. A quilting bee continues on Tuesday from 10:00 - 3:00 p.m. Anyone interested in quilting is asked to help. A fitness program will begin Thursday, May 10, 1984 at 11:00 - 11:45 and continue for the next seven Thursdays. Bring a bag lunch and have it with company from the class.

Storm damage estimated at up to $700,000

The total damage to Hydro's Georgian Bay Region installations caused by the recent severe wind storm is estimated at between $650,000 and $700,000.

The storm which ripped through Georgian Bay Region from the southwest to northeast caused the most extensive damage to the 44 kV transmission system and rural distribution circuits. It was particularly devastating to the more heavily treed areas which experienced poles breaking and trees being blown into lines.

"The longest outage on the 44 kV sub-transmission line was 18 hours. This outage occurred in the Minden area when the Tory Hill Distribution Station experienced problems. Two thousand, one hundred customers were affected by this outage. The rural system experienced outages up to five days in duration."

A total of 52 Ontario Hydro distributing stations and 31 municipal stations were affected at different times during the storm on Monday. Approximately 71,000 rural customers and 50,000 municipal customers were without power through-out varying portions of the storm.

The storm demanded the attention of area staff in all eleven Georgian Bay Region areas plus 70 additional linemen and foresters from surrounding regions. Three helicopters were also brought in to assist with repairs.

In some instances, only temporary repairs were possible to restore power to some customers. Permanent repairs to Ontario Hydro lines will take a couple of weeks to complete.

While power has been restored to all customers who experienced an outage, more damage reports are expected as seasonal customers return to their cottages throughout the month.

Cattle on pasture

- Ag report -

Approximately 1025 yearlings have been turned out to graze at the Victoria County Community Pasture near Hartley.

The livestock include steers, heifers from negative status herds and heifers from Brucellosis Free Listed herds.

All animals are in the 350 lb. to 750 lb. weight range. Animals are implanted to increase growth rate at the request of the owner. Each animal received a fly control tag.

The Victoria County Community Pasture Committee is looking forward to another successful grazing season.

The pasture farm is divided into nine ranches or separate grazing areas.

Each ranch is fertilized on a regular basis. As a result, the Committee has been able to accept more cattle last year and again for the 1984 grazing season.

Cattle will be removed from pasture in October with the early roundup ranch coming off before the fall feeder sales.

4-H leadership week

Two Victoria County 4-H members will be attending the 1984 Provincial 4-H Leadership Week from June 23 - 29 near Huntsville. Delegates are: Marie Walden and Larry Bowden. Afternoon sessions will feature interest groups on various topics from careers to outdoor survival. The entire program is based on the 4-H motto of "Learn To Do By Doing".

Delegates must be 16 to 21 years of age, have completed at least six 4-H projects and have contributed a great deal to the success of the 4-H program.

4-H is a personal development program for young people from 12 to 21 years of age. There are 22,000 4-H members in Ontario.

For more information regarding the 4-H program, please contact the Lindsay Agricultural Office, at 324-6125 or Zenith 97920.

Seniors meet with students

by Marie Wallace

One of the purposes of the Haliburton County Home Support Services is to create in the community an awareness of the process of aging and the needs of the elderly and to inform all the residents about the services provided by volunteers to assist seniors to remain independent in their own homes for a longer period of time.

In order to accomplish this, we recently had the opportunity to visit five grade 6 classes and spend about 40 minutes in each class explaining to the students the programs provided, e.g. Meals on Wheels, Transportation, Friendly Visiting, Fone-a-Friend, and Home Help. We also inform them about the Vials of Life, the Cold Air Masks, and the Information Centre which is for the residents of all ages.

The students are encouraged to be friendly with seniors and become a volunteer by assisting with shopping, gardening, etc. and to visit them. I was most impressed with the interest and concern these pupils showed in helping senior and disabled persons.

Next spring two volunteers will carry on this information sharing with the grade 6 students; Eleanor Holmes will speak with the three classes in the Haliburton school and Eddie Sedgewick will visit the two classes in the Minden school. Our thanks to these two capable ladies for carrying on this very worthwhile opportunity to inform our students about aging and the programs of Home Support.

Tenth production finds friendly audience

The Sycamore is one of a family of shade trees which is valued for the protection it offers from the intense summer sun. Sycamore is also the name of one of the most remarkable families in American theatre, whose home provides protection and a refuge for an extended family of exiled exiles.

This family of gentle anarchists are the main characters of the play, "You Can't Take It With You" which was presented by the Highlands Little Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening.

The play which was directed by Margaret O'Hara, is set in New York City in 1936. The patriarch of the family is Martin Vanderhof (played by Glen Carter), a kindly gentleman who hadn't held a job for 35 years. He quit working because he believed that unless he was happy at his job, working was a waste of time. He has a small income from some property that he owns and keeps active by attending commencements, visiting the circus and collecting snakes, which he keeps in a terrarium in the parlour. Because he has never paid income taxes, an Internal Revenue Service agent (Mike Collins) visits him to collect. During a spirited debate with the agent, Martin explains that he would pay his taxes if the government spent the money on something sensible, but otherwise he refuses to pay.

Martin's daughter Penelope Sycamore (Betsy Perugini) spends most of the time working on a number of different plays. She began writing the plays when a typewriter was delivered to the home by mistake, and although none of her plays has been produced and probably never will, she remains dedicated to writing.

Penelope's husband Paul (Stan Ashman) plays with meccano sets and manufactures fireworks in the basement with the assistance of Mr. DePina (Don Lettbridge) who also lives in the house.

The Sycamores' daughter Essie (Heather Scully) has been taking ballet lessons in the home for eight years, but has obviously made little progress. The private lessons are taught by a Russian exile, Boris Kolenkhov (Anne Creelman) who seems more interested in the free meals than the ballet lessons.

When Essie isn't practising about the stage, she makes candy which her husband Ed (Jim Andrews) delivers door to door. Ed visited the house one night and simply decided to stay. He also plays the xylophone and operates a printing press in the parlour.

Reba, the maid, (Brenda Ellis) and her boyfriend Donald (Dale McConnell) prepare the meals which consist mainly of cornflakes and melons.

The Sycamores' daughter Alice (Dorrie Darr) is the only person in the group who lives a normal life. She works as a secretary for a large corporation. Her love affair with her boss Tony Kirby (John Puro) not only provides several comic interludes during the play, but also creates some conflicts as well when Tony brings his conservative parents (Curtis Lassman and Elaine Schmidt) to the house for supper.

The interaction between the free spirited Sycamores and Tony's parents is one of the highlights of the play and climaxes when the house is raided by three "J-Men."

It seems that more than Ed has been playing leaflets in the boxes of candy which include such slogans as "Bomb the White House" and "Bomb the Capitol." Ed explains that he really didn't mean to do anything wrong, he just liked the way words fitted together, so he ran off the slogans on his printing press and placed them in the boxes of candy.

When the J-Men discover the fireworks in the basement they suspect they have broken a subversive plot and arrest everyone in the house, including the Kirby family.

The third act finds everyone back home after spending the night in jail. The families were charged with manufacturing fireworks without a licence, but let off with suspended sentences. They resolve one problem, but another problem arises when Alice decides to break up with Tony and go away for a while on her own. She is embarrassed by the trouble that was caused. Tony arrives to convince her to stay and is followed by his father who wants Tony to come home and stay away from the Sycamores who he feels are a bunch of communists. However the play is a comedy after all, and everything is resolved in the end. Mr. Kirby approves of Tony's marriage to Alice and Martin finds out that the JKB has dropped their actions against him because the agency believes that he is deceased.

During the third act Boris arrives with his friend, the Grand Duchess Olga Karamova (Caryl Douglas) who immediately retires to the kitchen where she prepares a batch of blintzes. The play ends with everyone sitting down to supper, which for once, doesn't have cornflakes as the main course.

The play which was written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, was the tenth production of the Highlands Little Theatre has performed. Some of the actors have been with the group since it's inception. Their experience and maturity as actors carried the production.

Glen Carter as the grandfather, Martin, gave a fine, understated performance. Betsy Perugini also performed well as the slightly eccentric, but down to earth Penelope and Bonnie Fitzgerald was excellent in an all too brief cameo as an indifferent actress.

While all of the 'veteran' actors fared well, the inexperience of some of the members who were making their acting debut was quite apparent, particularly in the first two acts.

The scenes between John Puro and Dorrie Darr as Tony and Alice were awkward at times and the dialogue lacked proper intonation.

Anne Creelman and Don Lettbridge were more at ease on the stage and had a tendency to overplay their roles.

With the exception of some long pauses between lines of dialogue in the first act, the play moved along at a brisk pace. It was a humorous, entertaining evening that was appreciated by a receptive audience.

To celebrate their tenth production the Highlands Little Theatre group turned all the profits from the performance to the Hospital for Sick Children Fund.

Youth farm jobs

conjunction with the Junior Agriculturalist Program.

For more information on the Program, contact Bob Davis, your area Co-ordinator, at the Lindsay Agricultural Office.

Judy Phillips of Minden received her diploma in the Nursing program at George Brown College in Toronto recently. The graduation exercises were held April 27, following a two and a half year program. Mrs. Phillips will be employed this summer at the Minden Hospital.

The Junior Agriculturalist Program is again offering youths with a non-farm background the opportunity to live and learn in rural Ontario for the period of June 25 to August 24.

The Program is run by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and has been in operation since 1971.

The basic aims of the Junior Agriculturalist Program are to offer youths 16 to 18 years of age practical farm knowledge, and to develop within the youths an appreciation of agriculture and rural life. The program also serves the Ontario farmer by providing a subsidized labour source. Students are paid a training allowance of eighteen dollars a day of which the host farmer pays eight dollars a day.

Around 200 urban youths will be working and living on farms province-wide in

Congratulations & Welcome

Robert Case Realty sales representative Bob Austin extends a warm welcome to Brian and Carol Groves the new owners of Family Kartways. Seen here with Carol's father, and track manager, Lloyd Saunders, the new owners invited everyone to visit them at the former Minden Go Kart Track, just off Highway 35, two miles south of Minden. The Groves plan improvements and changes to the area adding a snack bar, arcade which is now open, and other amusements.

Trent Severn news

Winter has passed and spring too is going by quickly, so that the summer recreation season is nearly upon us once again. A lot of water has passed by the locks, and through the control dams since our last newsletter in October 1983.

A cold winter with plenty of snow early in the season changed abruptly in February due to a mild spell and much of the snow disappeared. Drier than average conditions in Haliburton followed and though most of the inflow was retained in the lakes they had only slowly reached an average of 88.5% by May 7. A widespread rain of some 25 mm on May 8th would have brought the average over 90% by about May 11. Spring peak flows of the Gull and Burnt were lower than average and much lower than in 1983.

This rain also affected the Kawarthas and Rice Lake to cause them to overfill, so that the Lakefield flow which had been low for May at 43 m(3)/s was increased over the week to reach about 115 m(3)/s by Friday, May 11. The normal flow for May is 108 m(3)/s. With the small rains predicted into next week (beginning May 13) we expect the Kawartha surplus to recede again to a safe level. The flow can then be reduced again to hold the lakes steady. Too high an outflow would result in delayed opening of the navigation season scheduled for Friday, May 18.

Well Readers, as we start another week, let us start it with a smile, when the sun is shining, it makes life worth while.

A lovely service in the chapel Sunday night, right from the start. Owing to family trouble the Thompsons were not there to take their part. The music was played by Margaret Sisson, who did a real fine job. I wish you could have been there to listen. It was so nice to have the Brubachers there. Rev. Amos read the scripture, also led in prayer. Then Rev. Burgess spoke on Paul asking the Lord to take the thorn from the flesh from me. But the Lord said "No, My grace is sufficient for thee."

Monday morning down at Fun and Fitness Amelia Good won the game we played, for all to witness.

Pat Ackerblade said to me one day, "You know, we might be kissing cousins. I have relatives with the name of Harrison. I have them by the dozens."

It is now about Marie Baker I would like to speak. She shops for the residents here five days a week. Nothing for Marie is too much trouble. If you want her to take a shopping list, she is right there on the double. Now she does all this with the cutest little smile, just to oblige us she walks many miles.

Rev. Wicks, of Minden Gospel Church conducted the Tuesday service in the Chapel. He had an interesting story to tell, how Jesus met the Samaritan women at Jacob's well. Fred Ballard came with music to play. We can always depend on Fred, unless he is away.

Instead of the Quiz Game Tuesday afternoon, Doris showed us some real interesting movies. Fun Factory in which we laughed our fill, then Jellan Jellan and Mack's Mill.

The ladies are working in the Craft Room, keeping everything up to par. Making different items for their next bazaar.

Wednesday night, to Hyland Crest, Earl Cooper, he did come. Not only brought along his lovely wife also his daughter and son. Cathy couldn't come. With Earl on the fiddle, Andy playing the piano, Gordon the sticks and me the harmonica. We really made things hum. Then Eleanor played the piano and Earl the mandolin. We always look forward for when they come again.

We have a new resident, Lily Hogg, comes to Hyland Crest. We hope she'll like it here, we're sure she'll fare the best.

This is Millie Wood's birthday, this 10th day of May. We hope many more will be coming her way. Her daughter, granddaughter and great granddaughter are coming which we think is great, to help Millie, her birthday to celebrate.

The ladies from the Gospel Chapel, West Guilford, served the Tea Party this Thursday. I had company so could not stay. We had a taste and it was good, before we went away. Then they had a sing-a-long - Doris the music did play.

Linda English is doing fine after her operation. We understand when she gets back her strength, she is going on vacation.

Now here is more news - Lola Prentice won the game of pitching horse shoes.

Bev Jewitt, Lewis, Jean and Jason Stevens called the Bingo numbers here on Thursday night. We thank them for coming and doing the job just right.

Our entertainers came again on Friday afternoon. Grace to lead us in the singing Fred Ballard to play the tunes. Fred really has the touch. Grace had numerous poems to read which we enjoy so much.

Edith Welch, President of Residents' Council, we hear of her at last. She is in Lindsay hospital, in a plaster cast. Hope you'll soon be back with us, Edith, here at Hyland Crest. Until then we are wishing you the best.

Friday night, Payne, Deacon and Don Burch came up from Minden Town. They all come in their turn and seldom let us down. They played and sang for us for an hour or more. They were really sharp. Don not only played the harmonica but also the old jew's harp.

Before I close this letter, I would like to say, "God Bless all Mothers on the thirteenth of May, which is Mother's Day."

"Happiness is often the result of being too busy to be miserable."

$3000 stolen

An investigation is continuing into the theft of some $3,000 taken from the safe at the Reflection Restaurant in Carnarvon.

The incident took place on the night of May 12 - 13 when the intruder(s) used a heavy-duty sabre saw to gain entry to the company safe.

Identification specialist from the OPP District Headquarters in Peterborough was called in to assist Constable Brian Dunham in the investigation.

around the county town

Call 286-1288 — 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Our heartiest congratulations to Mr. & Mrs. Joe Dollo Jr. (Vickie-Lynn Smith) who were married in St. George's, Haliburton on Saturday evening. The happy couple will take up residence in Carnarvon.

The many friends of Mr. & Mrs. Amos Brubacher of Cambridge and formerly of Minden were pleased to have them pay a surprise visit to our area for a few days last week - especially the ladies of the North Road Sewing Circle which Luella formed many years ago. She was our special guest at our monthly meeting which was held at Meryl Hudson's home. Luella was presented with a Mother's Day corsage from the group. Another member, Siiri Mielonen, was given a gift of a leather Trillium pin to wear as she leaves shortly for a trip to Finland to visit family members.

Mr. & Mrs. Wallace Stuckless have returned from Florida where they celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary in April. Congratulations to you both and may you have many more happy years.

The nurses of Minden were delighted with the response to their Nurses' Week celebrations and asked us to thank everyone on their behalf; who made this event a success. They specially wish to thank the I.D.A. Drug Store and the T.D. Bank for the blood pressure clinics and Stedmans for their contribution. The winner of the draw for the health food basket was Hazel Maxwell. The draw was made at the hospital, Saturday, by Lillian Cox and all proceeds from the draw will go toward the Catscan unit at Peterborough Civic Hospital, thus benefitting the entire community. Congratulations to all of you - you do a great job ladies.

Mrs. Vivian Kernohan and Christine Kay spent last week visiting Mr. & Mrs. Dennis Potter and girls of Timmins.

The next Agricultural Society meeting will be held Wednesday, May 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the ante-room at the municipal building.

On Saturday Bess Cox and her sister-in-law Deb Cox visited Bess' parents, Angus & Gloria Cameron in Norland. They also attended the Bicentennial celebrations at Ward Park where Bess and Deb assisted in the judging of the pie and cake contest - winners were Dorothy Brown, for pies, and Joyce Bartley, for cakes, who received $25 each.

Victoria - Haliburton MP Bill Scott was on hand for the opening ceremonies and made the first cut in the log sawing contest.

Winners at this week's Club 35 euchre party were: most lone hands, Minnie Dawson, high man - Jim McCarthy, high lady - Ruthie Cummings. The door prize was won by Murray Daniels and other winners were Rita Alsop, Bill Cowen and Sady Fraser.

Well, it will be nice to see all the well known faces starting again this weekend. To all our seasonal residents, welcome home - have a nice summer.

"That Bug"

In all the gatherings of high brows,
Their get-togethers, and pow wows,
In all the verbal chatter, din,
It seems there's no one can pin
The answer to the bug within
The economic framework,
Or yet perceive beyond the glin
What yet may lurk.

Technology it grows, it breeds,
Is catching up with all our needs.
The magic key to breach the door,
Revealing such material store,
Meeting all our needs and more,
Ah, yes, My Friend, but then
As we mentioned once before
That bug again.

There is this thing, the robot, but
Tending to produce a glut,
For it can't eat, it can't wear clothes,
Coats or hats, shoes or hose.
Not as everybody knows,
We working people do,
Who will they sell, do you suppose,
Their products to?

The back-up, Folks, is sure to grow,
Bleeding Labour, markets go.
The circumstanced drive to compete
Bears in itself its own defeat.
its premise, Folks, is obsolete.
Expanding markets are no more;
Technology performed that feat
And closed the door.

Alternatives might cross the mind,
But do afright those fiercely blind.
The pundits, they prescribe the cure,
The end result to them obscure.

But hope the patient will endure
And that while being bled,
Rejecting all who would demur,
Till he is dead.

Bill Watson
R.R. 2, Minden

Dawning

A soft grey dove is the early dawn
That hovers just outside my window.
It spreads its wings and flies away
Against the coming of tomorrow.
The clouds aloft in frothy air
Out where the sky begins -
Now genuflect and come to rest
On forest, rill and plain -
The sky is rosy in the east
Whence comes the morning sun,
I lie awake, still dreaming
Amid the splendor
Of my shattered dreams.
Unwilling yet to comprehend
The dawning of reality -
A day that's just begun.

Paul's Anglican Church will be open every Friday from 1 p.m. - 4 p.m.

Don't forget the Kinsmen Annual Flea Market at the Firehall this Saturday. All proceeds, as usual, go to cystic fibrosis. To complete your Saturday entertainment, why not attend the Mayfest at the Community Centre at 8 p.m.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband Hugh Alton Sr. who left us May 16, 1983. Just a thought of sweet remembrance
Just a memory sad and true
Just the love and sweet devotion
Of one who thinks of you.

Inserted by his loving wife Ruth.

In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather Hugh Alton Sr. who passed away May 16, 1983. His suffering ended with the day
Yet lives he at it's close
And breathed the long, long night away
In statue-like repose
But when the sun in all her state
Illumed eastern skies
He passed through Glory's morning gate
And watched in Paradise.
